DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 7-19 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hedenberg in view of Miller.

There is disclosed in Hedenberg a bread maker, comprising: a main body 2; an oven (interior heating chamber) accommodated in the main body; a baking tray 25 placed inside the oven and formed with a profile groove (not labeled, see figure 3), the tray comprising a stationary tray 28 and a movable tray 26; and a profile 40, 42 combined in the profile groove of the baking tray.

Miller discloses a peripheral groove 14 having a rectangular cross-section for supporting a cylindrical gasket 20, the groove including flanges (protrusions) 19 for retaining the gasket within the groove.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the profile groove of Hedenberg with the flanges (protrusions) taught in Miller, in order to help retain the profile within the profile groove.

In regards to the use of plural profiles, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide plural profiles, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

In regards to the method of forming the protrusion on the groove, such is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.

In regards to claim 13, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the shape of the Hedenberg groove with that taught by Miller, in order to provide an alternative shape for the groove.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 10 January 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that Miller is nonanalogous art, it has been held that the determination that a reference is from a nonanalogous art is twofold. First, we decide if the reference is within the field of the inventor's endeavor. If it is not, we proceed to determine whether the reference is reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the inventor is involved. In this case, Miller is pertinent to the retaining of a gasket (profile) within a peripheral groove (profile groove). Miller teaches the use of a rectangular groove and projections to retain the gasket therein.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
